A Paradox.

Poll—Auntie is getting quite a paradox, ain't she?
Moll—How do you mean?
Poll—Why, she's putting on flesh and cunning to wait at the same time.

It Happens So.

She was matter of fact and commonplace.
A slim little brown eyed thing;
She had neither beauty nor wit nor grace.
She couldn't recite nor sing
Nor do anything much, except knit lace.
With a sailor hat tipped over her face.

She had never learned how to row or swim,
And it bored her, she said, to dance,
And if any one asked her to walk with him
She lifted her tranquil glance
And said her little decided way
In the most indifferent sort of way.

Yet of all the maids in that big hotel
Who flirted and prinked and posed
She found a stylish and wealthy swell
Who promptly to her proposed
And married her promptly because (that's what)
She didn't care whether he did—or not!

BRIEF CITY NEWS

Lucky Tiger Vacation Party.

B. F. Graham and Major W. L. Hargrove, with a party of young folks from the office of B. F. Graham & Co., of this city, left yesterday for the camp of the Lucky Tiger in Sonora. They will remain about a week, during which time they will combine business with pleasure. In the party which left Bisbee were Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Graham, Major Hargrove, Misses Floy Douglas, Helen Hargrove, B. Gray and Donald Hargrove.

Mexican Gets Fifteen Days.

Jose Portado was sentenced to serve fifteen days in the chain gang by Justice McDonald yesterday for having been drunk and disorderly and disturbing the peace. Jose loaded up on mescal and entered the house of a Mexican friend near Lowell and commenced to run things according to his own ideas of what was right. He got too boisterous for the rights of inmates of the establishment, however, and the services of an officer were found necessary to regulate the actions of the effusive jag.

Catholic Church.

Notice is hereby given to the Catholics of Bisbee that there will be mass as usual next Sunday, second Sunday of the month. Rev. M. Vandermassen will have services in Benson, and Rev. Father Gheldof, pastor, will celebrate mass in Bisbee in both the American and Mexican churches. The holy sacrifice of mass is going to be offered to God in thanksgiving for the happy choice of the new pope or head of the Roman Catholic church, Pius X. After mass a hymn of thanksgiving to God will be sung by the choir.

Williams Under Heavy Bonds.

John Williams, the man arrested in Phoenix for having passed two raised bills, had his preliminary hearing in the office of the United States court commissioner at Phoenix Wednesday and was bound over to await the action of the grand jury in the sum of $1,200. J. H. Campbell, United States assistant attorney, was present, and looked after the interests of the government. Attorney Colonel Jerry Millay appeared for the defendant. While Williams made no statement in court, he still sticks to the statements he has made heretofore to the effect that he got the bad money either in Bisbee or Cananea.

Mrs. Clara Meyers Dismissed.

The case of the territory vs. Mrs. Clara Meyers, Martin O'Hare complainant, came up in Justice Brown's court yesterday, and after the witnesses for the prosecution had been examined, the case was dismissed on motion of W. P. Miller, one of the attorneys for the defense. Attorney George Neal stated to the court that he had no objection to the motion of the defendant's attorney, so the court dismissed the case and the jurors. The suit was of a criminal nature, brought upon the complaint of Martin O'Hare, who accused the defendant of tearing down one of the monuments on a mining claim on School hill.

Jacobson Thought Strange Things.

Martin Jacobson, a Fin, who resides on Youngblood hill, has been living on a boozie diet for several days, and it may be some time before he gets down to every-day living and thinking. He worked himself into a strain of thought that made his presence very obnoxious yesterday morning, and he had to be brought into the presence of Justice McDonald. That official passed upon Martin's insanity and recommended him to the care of his family with instructions that he indulge in nothing stronger than copious draughts of goat milk. He had a wild idea that he was the whole thing in the universe, and that the heavens and earth were coming together at a fearful pace. He was dead sure of this, so came to the conclusion that it would make little or no difference even if he did annihilate one or two of the family to get in practice for the bloody strife which was to accompany the crash between this world and the rest of the universe. When that came he was going to get busy with the extermination of the Swedes, with whom he had a date to scrap. A brother took him under his protecting wing, and the belligerent Martin was taken home to think it over and come out of it.

Parker is Acquitted.

J. S. Parker was acquitted by a jury in Justice McDonald's court yesterday where he was charged with having assaulted a Mexican laborer at the smelter on Tuesday last. From the testimony given at the trial of the case it was learned that the Mexican, Ignacio Mendoza, was about to take a drink of water from the drinking tank in the boiler room at the smelter. Parker ordered him to get out and get his drink elsewhere, when Mendoza advanced the opinion that he could whip both Parker and Harry Leonard, who was at the time standing with Parker. Parker then buried a heavy monkey wrench at the Mexican, hitting him on the jaw and knocking him down. Mendoza got up and made a move to pull up his pants, which was taken by Parker to indicate that he was reaching after a knife. Parker then grabbed a section of gas pipe which lay near and struck Mendoza over the head with it several times, inflicting ugly gashes. This testimony of six witnesses was corroborated by Parker himself, and the jury returned a verdict of acquittal. The jury was composed of the following: Louis Briggs, Lee Hinkle, Fred Wohlschlegel, F. B. Harrington, Charles Watts, A. L. Sucavich, James Atchison, John Greener, George Bernarde, Ben St. Louis and John James.

RASPBERRY NOVELTIES.

Foam, Float, Puffs, Soup, Caps, Paste and Pudding Sauce.

Raspberry Foam.—Crush a quart of raspberries, breaking every berry. Sprinkle over half a teaspoonful of sugar and set aside an hour or more. Beat two eggs very light and frothy, add two tablespoonsful of sugar, stir into the crushed berries and serve immediately. Garnish with especially large berries.

Float.—Crush a pint of very ripe red berries and press through a sieve to remove the seeds. Beat in, a little at a time, powdered sugar and the beaten whites of eggs until two tablespoonsful of sugar and the whites of four eggs have been used.

Puffs.—Make a batter with two beaten eggs, half a teaspoonful of milk and half a teaspoonful of sugar; add half a teaspoonful of salt and enough flour sifted with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder to make a moderately stiff batter and stir in two teaspoonfuls of berries. Butter six teacups, fill half full, put in a steamer cover and cook over boiling water an hour. Serve with orange sauce. Into a teacupful of hot water put a teaspoonful of sugar; add a few pieces of orange peel. When it boils stir in a tablespoonful of cornstarch wet with a little orange juice that has been extracted from two sour oranges. Now add the remainder of the juice, take out the peel and add half a teaspoonful of butter, stirring well.

Soup.—Cook red or black raspberries in a little water until they part with their juice. Squeeze, strain, add water to make the desired flavor, boil, skim, and to every three pints add a tablespoonful of cornstarch dissolved in a little of the juice when cold and boil a minute. In warm weather serve cold, with a lump of ice in each dish and a tablespoonful of whipped cream. In cold weather serve hot, with crackers crisped in the oven.

Cups.—Sift two teaspoonfuls of baking powder with two teaspoonfuls of flour, and with a little water make a soft dough. Butter large cups, drop in a little dough, then a few berries; use dough and berries to fill the cups about half full. Set the cups in a dish of hot water, put in the oven, cover closely and cook half an hour. Add boiling water as it evaporates. Serve with milk or thin cream sweetened with maple sugar.

Paste.—Put two quarts of red berries in an earthen jar, set the jar in boiling water over the fire and cook until the juice is extracted, then rub through a fine colander or sieve to remove the seeds. Mix with this an equal weight of sugar and cook to a firm paste, stirring all the time or it may burn. Spread evenly on plates, dry in the oven, cut in small pieces, dip in pulverized sugar and can. For use soak the pieces overnight in cold water and simmer slowly.

Sauce For Puddings.—Cook a pint of raspberries with two-thirds of a teacupful of sugar in a teacupful of water. Strain through a sieve and add a tablespoonful of butter. Thicken with a very little cornstarch.—Country Gentleman.

Wonderful Eyes.

It is said that there is a woman in Manchester, England, who has eyes which magnify objects fifty times their natural size.

Monkey Shines.

Monkeys have a keen sense of humor, which enables them to relish a joke. It is not to be supposed that they care whether the fun is at the expense of one of their own species or of ours. Their jokes are necessarily practical.
